BREAKDOWN

Nanny Diaries

Scarlett Johansson lends her pretty face to The Nanny Diaries, which came out in August. Johansson plays Annie, a New York University student who is hired as caretaker for a rich family.

Heba Thorisdottir, Johansson's personal make-up artist on the movie, has worked on six films with Scarlett the starlet. "Every girl has that one thing they can't leave the house without. For Annie that's her eyeliner," Thorisdottir said.

Thorisdottir toned down Johansson's striking features using a little gloss and liner on her naturally dark, defined lips—never lipstick. Johansson's hair was brown for the film, so Thorisdottir brought out the olive in her skin tone to give her a fresh tan look. As her time as a nanny wore on, Johansson's dark skin paled, her hair became messy and her "can't live without" eye-
